

Rita Redondo is currently working in CIEP - the Research Centre of the Institute for Political Studies of Universidade Católica Portuguesa, since she earned a Research Scholarship for MA holders, where she is responsible for the coordination of the ongoing research project about the Six Revolutions of the Modern Era. Additionally, she is a PhD candidate and is starting to write her thesis. Rita holds a Master Degree in Political Science and International Relations from IEP as well and a BA in Languages and International Relations from Faculdade de Letras da Universidade do Porto.