

Olga Treve Kalshoven was born in the Netherlands and lives in Turkey. Currently she is enrolled in the PhD Program in Political Science and International Relations at the Institute for Political Studies of Portuguese Catholic University (UCP). Presently she is working on a thesis “The Compatibility of the EU-Turkey Statement with the Identity of the European Union”. She holds a MA in European Studies at the same institution with a dissertation “Turkey and the European Union between Convergence and Divergence”. Additionally, she received her BA in International Business of Ramapo College, New Jersey, USA.

Field of Interest: European and Turkish Identity, Migration, Refugees, Multiculturalism and European Integration.